

Maratha Vidya Prasarak Samaj, Nashik
GMD Arts B.W. Commerce and Science College Sinnar Dist.
Nashik
Department of Political Science

- ✓ PO - Program Outcomes
- ✓ PSO- Program Specific Outcomes
- ✓ CO - Course outcomes

B.A. Political Science

Program Outcomes:

After Completing BA Political Science students will be able to:

PO1: Understand Basic framework of Indian government and Constitution: acquaint students with the important features of the Constitution of India and with the basic framework of Indian government.

PO2: Social competence: Express oneself clearly and precisely to build good interpersonal relationships in personal and professional life

PO3: Effective Citizenship and Ethics: Demonstrate empathetic social concern and equity centred national development; ability to act with an informed awareness of moral and ethical issues and commit to professional ethics and responsibility.

PO4: Responsible and dutiful citizen: Realize themselves as responsible citizens and imbibe the human values anticipated by the Indian Constitution.

PO5: Environment and Sustainability: The students will become aware about the issues related to environment and the steps needed to be implemented for its sustainability through the study of texts with ecological elements and dimensions.

Program Specific Outcomes

After Completing BA Political Science students will be able to:

PSO 1: It also familiarize with the vital contemporary emerging issues of centre-state. Relation, political parties, emergence of new leadership at different levels, demand for autonomy movement, ethnic conflicts etc.

PSO 2: Acquaint with the basic concepts, principles and dynamics of public administration.

PSO 3: Familiarize with important theories and issues of international relations.

PSO 4: Understand the basic concept and ideological orientations of political science discipline.

PSO 5: Understand the contribution of the main traditions of Indian Political Thought.

PSO 6: An understanding the evolution, development and trends of India's foreign policy.

PSO 7: Understand the contribution of the main traditions of western political thinkers to political thought.

PSO 8: Acquaint with the basics of International Law and the new trends in the realm of International law.

PSO 9: Understand the basic concept and issues concerning human rights and challenges.

PSO 10: Familiarize with the problems and prospects of rural development of India.

Course outcomes

F.Y.B.A. Political Science

Course: 11161 INTRODUCTION TO INDIAN CONSTITUTION

After successfully completing these course students will be able to:

CO 1: The students are acquainted with the important features of the Constitution of India

CO 2: The student is aware with the basic framework of Indian Government

CO 3: The students becomes familiar to the working of the Constitution of India

CO 4: Understanding of basic concept of Indian Constitution.

CO 5: Understanding the Structure & Functions of Indian Political System.

CO 6: Knowledge of Fundamental Rights & Duties.

S.Y.B.A.

General General Political Science

Course: 23164 AN INTRODUCTION TO POLITICAL IDEOLOGIES

After successfully completing these course students will be able to:

CO 1: Understand the Role of Political Ideologies.

CO 2: To get knowledge of Political Ideologies.

CO 3: Understand the Philosophical basis of the Ideologies.

CO 4: Develop ability to critically analyze of various Ideologies

S.Y.B.A. Special I

Course: 23161 WESTERN POLITICAL THOUGHT

After successfully completing these course students will be able to:

CO 1: Students are introduced to classical tradition in political theory from Plato to Marx with the view to analyze and understand political events and problems of their time and solution

CO 2: Students are aware about the negligence of women's concerns and issues

CO 3: Students can know the change within the Western political tradition

S.Y.B.A. Special II

Course: 23162 POLITICAL JOURNALISM

After successfully completing these course students will be able to:
Complex relationship between the communication media and power politics.

CO 1: Critical appraisal of practices of political image management camping, propaganda.

CO 2: Indian context of political Journalism.

T.Y.B.A

General Political Science

Course: 35164 Local Self Government in Maharashtra

After successfully completing these course students will be able to:

CO 1: Students are introduced to structure of Local Self Government of Maharashtra

CO 2: Students are familiar to awareness of the various Local Self Institutions, function, and Composition and importance

CO 3: Students can know the role of Local Government and Local Leadership in development

T.Y.B.A General Political Science

Course: 35163 MODERN POLITICAL ANALYSIS

After successfully completing these course students will be able to:

CO 1: This course will introduce the overall scope of the sub-discipline of Modern Political Analysis.

CO 2: The focus of the course will be on the Modern Political Analysis of power.

CO 3: The emphasis is on the nature of power in modern societies- more in the form of organizations and social formations than as individual power.

CO 4: Students are also expected to understand different forms of justifications of power and the role of ideology in this regard. State will be studied as a repository of power in society while class and patriarchy are two instance of how

T.Y.B.A. Special III Political Science

Course: 35161 Public Administration

After successfully completing these course students will be able to:

- CO 1: Students are introduced to essence of Public Administration, its effectiveness in translating the governing philosophy into programmes, policies and activities and making it a part of Community living.
- CO 2: Students are familiar to personnel public administration in the historic context highlighting several of its categories which develops administrative salience and capabilities to deal with the process of Changes
- CO 3: Students can know the paradigm of democratic legitimacy
- CO 4: The importance of legislative and judicial control over administration is given to students
- CO 5: Knowledge about Governance and Bureaucracy.
- CO 6: Introduce about various Methods of Recruitment & Training.

T.Y.B.A. Special IV

Course: 35162 International relations

After successfully completing these course students will be able to:

- CO 1: Students are introduced to concepts and dimensions of international relations
- CO 2: Students are familiar to different theories highlighting the major debates and different aspects of balance of power within.
- CO 3: Students can know the various aspects of conflict and conflict resolution, collective security and specificity of the long period of post Second World War and phase of the Cold War. Of Detente and Deterrence leading to theories of rough parity in armaments.

Program Outcome:

After Completing MA Political Science students will be able to:

PO1-Political Science and Society: understanding the inter relationship between policy decisions and its effects on society. This is achieved through a comprehensive teaching of the practice of public administration in India.

PO2: Social competence: Express oneself clearly and precisely to build good interpersonal relationships in personal and professional life

PO3: Effective Citizenship and Ethics: Demonstrate empathetic social concern and equity centred national development; ability to act with an informed awareness of moral and ethical issues and commit to professional ethics and responsibility.

PO4: Environment and Sustainability: The students will become aware about the issues related to environment and the steps needed to be implemented for its sustainability through the study of texts with ecological elements and dimensions.

PO5: Critical thinking: the ability to analyses and predict socio political phenomena based on the study of existing socio economic determinants and past experiences. This goal is achieved by training students in the different methods and tools

Program Specific Outcomes

After Completing MA Political Science students will be able to:

PSO1: Students will aware about interdisciplinary Orientation of Tradition of Political Thought.

PSO2: Students understand impartment concept of Administrative Theory.

PSO3: To provide students an understanding of the basic concepts of Political Institutions in India.

PSO4: To study one State in an in-depth manner to understand how they become Indian foreign Policy.

PSO5: To provide the knowledge of comparative political analysis.

PSO6: Understand the more knowledge of theory of international relation.

PSO7: To provide the knowledge of Public policy

PSO8: Understand the basic concept Politics and media

Course outcomes:

M.A.-I, (SEM – I)

Course: 12401 Traditions of Political Thought:

After successfully completing these course students will be able to:

CO 1: This course is meant to serve as a window on the major traditions of thought that have shaped political discourse in different parts of the world over the last three millennia.

CO 2: It stresses the great diversity of social contexts and philosophical visions that have informed the ideas of key political thinkers across epochs. The chief objective is to project the history of political thought as a series of critical, interconnected and open-ended conversations about the ends and means of the good life.

Course: 12402 Administrative Theory:

After successfully completing these course students will be able to:

CO 1: Public Administration is an essential part of a society. In last few years the profession of Public Administration is going through changes.

CO 2: Present paper aims to make aware the students about Evolution & Importance of the Public Administration. Paper introduces changing trends in the field of Public Administration.

Course: 12403 Political Institutions in India:

After successfully completing these course students will be able to:

CO 1: The course introduces the student to the leading institutions of India's political system and to the changing nature of these institutions.

CO 2: Apart from explaining the structure and functions of the main institutions the course will try to acquaint students with the idea of institutional balance of power as discussed in the Indian constitution and as developed during the functioning of Indian democracy over the past seven decades.

Course: 12406 India's Foreign Policy:

After successfully completing these course students will be able to:

CO 1: This paper encourages the student to undertake an in depth analysis of India's foreign policy.

CO 2: It seeks to probe and ascertain the major issues and debates in the field of Indian foreign policy and explores India's complex relationships, both bilateral and multilateral, with other countries.

M.A.-I, (SEM – II)

Course: 22401 Comparative Political Analysis:

After successfully completing these course students will be able to:

CO 1: The purpose of this course is to acquaint the student with the sub-discipline of comparative politics.

CO 2: It expects the students to understand the comparative methodology and dynamics of domestic politics across countries.

Course: 22402 Theory of International Politics:

After successfully completing these course students will be able to:

CO 1: Students need a brief history of international politics to understand why we study the subject and how current scholarship is informed by what preceded it.

CO 2: Theories provide interpretative frameworks for understanding what is happening in the world and the levels of analysis. Competing theories are presented.

Course: 22403 Public Policy:

After successfully completing these course students will be able to:

CO 1: The purpose of this course is to provide students an understanding of the basic concepts, theories and process of public policy.

CO 2: The course also seeks to help students understand public policy processes and actors involved in it by studying specific policies.

CO 3: It attempts to help students understand and analyze policy making in practical context.

Course: 22404 Politics and the Media:

After successfully completing these course students will be able to:

CO 1: This course covers theories and methods used for understanding the role of media in political processes.

CO 2: It explores the role of mediated communications by political actors, media organizations, and individuals via both traditional and digital media, the development of public opinion, the images and perceptions of public figures and policies, in elections.

M.A.-II, (SEM – III)

Course: 32401 Modern Political Thought:

After successfully completing these course students will be able to:

CO 1: The purpose of this course is to introduce to the student political ideas, views and concerns of leading Indian thinkers.

CO 2: The course encourages students to understand and decipher the diverse and often contesting ways in which the ideas of nationalism, democracy and social transformation were discussed in pre and post-independence India.

Course: 32402 Political Sociology:

After successfully completing these course students will be able to:

CO 1: This Course will introduce the overall scope of the sub-discipline of political sociology.

CO 2: The focus of the course will be on the political sociology of power. The emphasis is on the nature of power in modern societies-more in the form of organizations and social formations than as individual power. Students are also expected to understand different forms of justifications of power and the role of ideology in this regard.

Course: 32403 World Politics-New Developments:

After successfully completing these course students will be able to:

CO 1: The objectives of this course are to introduce the students to the contemporary issues and debates in the world politics.

CO 2: The students would also be made aware of the dimensions of the making of the foreign policy as well as the role of Non- State Actors in World Politics.

CO 3: They would also learn about the emerging New World Order and the challenges to it.

Course: 32404 Indian Administration – Structure and Organization:

After successfully completing these course students will be able to:

CO 1: To introduce the students to the evolution of Indian Administration.

CO 2: To acquaint them with the Principles and structure of Indian Administration.

CO 3: To provide comprehensive understanding of administrative development.

M.A.-II, (SEM – IV)Course: 42401 Fundamentals of Political Theory:

After successfully completing these course students will be able to:

CO 1: This course introduces the students to the evolution, importance to the study of Political Theory.

CO 2: It introduces Political Theory as a distinctive area of inquiry. It is the integral area to the study of politics. It highlights debates in the field and places them in a historical perspective.

Course: 42402 Political Process in India:

After successfully completing these course students will be able to:

CO 1: The course will introduce to the student the key issues and details of the political process in post-independence India.

CO 2: It will also try to develop among students a perspective to understand and analyses Indian politics.

Course: 42403 Politics and Society:

After successfully completing these course students will be able to:

CO 1: This Course expects students to understand the interface of politics with social structures and processes and how the nature of power is shaped by social factors.

Course: 42404 Twentieth Century Political Thought:

After successfully completing these course students will be able to:

CO 1: This Course provides glimpses of certain prominent intellectual currents that have shaped global political discourse in the twentieth century and beyond. It does so by focusing on major representative thinkers.

CO 2: The chief objective is to project the contemporary resonance and rich diversity of key perspectives, frameworks and agendas articulated by these seminal theorists and schools of thought.

